STAR MAKES IT EASY INDEED

THE WONDERFUL SIGHTS AT THE ST. LOUIS EXPOSITION MAY BE SEEN BY EVERYBODY.

Among those who are now securing the beautiful and valuable photographic reproductions of scenes at the Louisiana Purchase Exposition are many who wish to obtain and now highly prize the set of views of the Columbian Exposition a double set.
Many who will not write state that these views of the former World Fair are in their possession and that they would not part with them at any price.
It is wise therefore for all our readers to take into account the value that set upon this record and remembrance of the Chicago Fair.
It is estimated that more than 400,000 portfolios were distributed at that time, thus showing the keen and widespread interest of the people in reform themselves about the event.
It is quite safe to say that the views of the St. Louis World Fair will be in even greater demand since the event will far transcend anything in the history of exposition.

With this idea in mind, the Star has made it exceptionally easy for all its readers to satisfy their desire in this respect, since it has placed within their reach the superb "Forest City" series, which is now being issued in thirty weekly portfolios, each containing 10 splendid views of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition.
These portfolios are distributed practically free, the only cost to readers being the nominal sum of 25 cents a part, to cover the cost of handling, wrapping, mailing, etc.
The series will be alike interesting and valuable to those who visit the Fair and to those who, for any reason, are not able to do so.

The educational nature of the series should also be born in mind, there is indeed no better means of information afforded than is conveyed by these magnificent art reproductions and the accompanying descriptions.
The views are certainly official, since they are taken especially for the "Forest City" by the official photographer of the Exposition, while all of the descriptions are written by Mr. Walter B. Stevens, the Exposition Secretary.
That all our readers highly appreciate the opportunity afforded is shown by the fact that the distribution of the set has always been very large and it is not confined to city readers only, but hundreds of orders are coming in daily from remote points reached by the Star.
It is only necessary to clip the coupon in which appears from time to time in these columns and send or bring the same with 25 cents for any part desired and it will be promptly forwarded, Parts 1 and 2 are now ready.
An inspection of the views and a careful reading of the descriptions will afford much valuable and interesting information that cannot be secured in any other way.
